Track star Usain Blot unveils his new 'Bolt Mobility' personal electric scooter

Electric scooters are still not street-legal in NYC.

Track star and new Bolt pitchman Usain Bolt poses for photos with a Bolt Mobility scooter outside of New York City Hall following a press conference about the new product on March 12, 2019, in New York City. Electric scooters are still not street-legal in New York City, but transportation advocates and lobbyists are encouraging the push toward legalization and regulation. Bolt, a Miami-based startup, joins a crowded field of competitors in the United States, including Bird Scooters, Lime Scooters and Lyft Scooters.

ESPN to launch collegiate video game championship

2 ESPN will hold its first-ever college championship for competitive video gaming later this year, the TV sports network said on Tuesday, a high-profile esports event aimed at younger fans who spend more time with game controllers than baseball bats or hockey sticks. ESPN Events, a unit of Walt Disney Co.'s cable sports network that also produces a lineup of other sports events such as the Air Force Reserve Celebration Bowl, will produce the Collegiate Esports Championship (CEC). The showdown will be held in Houston at Comicpalooza at the George R. Brown Convention Center in May. Players will compete in five games: "Overwatch," "Hearthstone," "StarCraft II," "Heroes of the Storm" and "Street Fighter V: Arcade Edition." As professional esports tournaments have expanded in the last couple of years, so too have college-level games.

Trump blamed for blackout, Venezuela boots US diplos

3 Venezuela ordered American diplomats to leave the country within 72 hours on Tuesday after President Nicolas Maduro accused U.S. counterpart Donald Trump of cyber "sabotage" that plunged the OPEC nation into its worst blackout on record. Foreign Minister Jorge Arreaza said U.S. diplomats on Venezuelan soil must leave within three days, after talks broke down over maintaining diplomatic "interest sections" in the two countries. The U.S. State Department had announced on Monday it will withdraw its staff from Venezuela this week, saying their presence had become "a constraint on U.S. policy." Washington has taken the lead in recognizing opposition leader Juan Guaido as Venezuela's rightful president after the 35-year-old congress chief announced an interim presidency in January after declaring Maduro's 2018 re-election a fraud.

NBA probing Westbrook dispute with Jazz fan

4 Oklahoma City star Russell Westbrook said he was verbally provoked before directing a profanity-laced tirade at a fan during the Thunder's 98-89 win over the Utah Jazz on Monday in Salt Lake City. A reporter from the Deseret News tweeted a video of Westbrook's comments to the fan. "I promise you," Westbrook said to the fan. "You think I'm playing. I swear to God. I swear to God. I'll [expletive] you up, you and your wife. I'll [expletive] you up." After the game, Westbrook gave his explanation: "How it started was, a young man and his wife in the stands told me 'to get down on my knees like you used to.' To me, that's just completely disrespectful. To me, I think it's racial, and I think it's inappropriate and insensitive. ... If I had it to do over again, I would say the exact same thing. I truly will stand up for myself and my family."

Huffman, Loughlin part of $25M admissions scam

Federal prosecutors in Boston say up to 50 people fraudulently got their kids into elite colleges.

GETTY IMAGES

Federal authorities arrested dozens on Tuesday for a $25 million scheme to help wealthy Americans, including actresses Felicity Huffman and Lori Loughlin and some CEOs, cheat their children's way into elite universities such as Yale and Stanford.

The largest college admissions fraud scam unearthed in U.S. history was run out of a small college preparation company in Newport Beach, California, that relied on bribes to sports coaches, phony test takers and even doctored photos depicting non-athletic applicants as elite competitors to land college slots for the offspring of rich parents, prosecutors said.

"These parents are a catalog of wealth and privilege," Andrew Lelling, the U.S. attorney in Boston, said at a news conference. "For every student admitted through fraud, an honest, genuinely talented student was rejected."

William "Rick" Singer, 58, pleaded guilty on Tuesday to charges related to running the scheme through his Edge College & Career Network, which charged from $100,000 to as much as $2.5 million per child for the services, which were masked as contributions to a scam charity Singer runs.

"I was essentially buying or bribing the coaches for a spot," Singer said as he pleaded guilty to charges including racketeering, money laundering and obstruction of justice. "And that occurred very frequently."

John Vandemoor, a former Stanford University sailing coach who worked with Singer, also pleaded guilty to racketeering conspiracy.

It was the latest in a series of scandals that have rocked the high-stakes, high-stress world of admissions to top colleges. Prosecutors in Boston in recent years have also charged Chinese nationals with cheating on entrance exams, while the College Board, which administers the SAT tests, was rocked in 2016 by a security breach that exposed hundreds of questions planned for tests.

Some 300 law enforcement agents swept across the country to make arrests in what agents code-named "Operation Varsity Blues." Huffman and Loughlin were due to appear in federal court in Los Angeles later on Tuesday, prosecutors said.

Prosecutors have so far named 33 parents, 13 coaches, and associates of Singer's business.

Other parents charged include Manuel Henriquez, the chief executive of specialty finance lender Hercules Capital; Gordon Caplan, the co-chairman of international law firm Willkie Farr & Gallagher; Bill McGlashan Jr., who heads a buyout investment arm of private equity firm TPG Capital; and Douglas Hodge, the former CEO of the investment management firm Pimco.

Representatives for the companies and for Huffman and Loughlin either declined to comment or did not respond to requests for comment.

Doctors Urge Knee Pain Sufferers

"Don't Get ANY Surgery Until You SeeThis…"

After Years Of Intense Study, NYC Medical Clinic Finally Reveals It's Best "Treatment Formula" For Helping Knee Arthritis Sufferers... Especially When So Many Other Treatments Have Failed

NEW YORK CITY - If you are even remotely interested in discovering how the latest scientific discoveries can possibly help your knee pain... then this is going is be the most exciting information you ever read.

Here is why: Knee pain can not only be brutal... it's complex. In other words, it's not a simple, easy fix.

But I'm sure you already know that. Or you wouldn't be reading this.

That's the bad news.

Now for some good news...

Over the years, NYC Pain MD has treated countless knee pain sufferers. And in that time have been able to constantly improve.

And we have come up with a treatment formula that we have found works best and helps the most patients.

This formula has reduced or even eliminated the pain in many. Some were scheduled for knee replacement surgery and felt good enough to cancel their surgery.

It's amazing when patients who were once in excruciating pain... start feeling better. And start walking again. And playing golf. Or tennis. And finally getting their lives back.

Especially when they had gone to other doctors and tried so many other things.

So many had given up hope.

Sound familiar? If it does... check this out...

The Treatment Formula

While I can't give you the entire treatment formula here (there is not enough space and WAY too complicated) I can give you the basics. And more important... I can tell you what it might be able to do for YOU.

The first and most important part of the formula is: PATIENT SELECTION.

This means, NYC Pain MD has a detailed screening process to tell who is most likely to be helped by their treatments... and who is not.

If you qualify, you have the opportunity to move forward and experience the worldclass treatments that NYC Pain MD offers.

If you do not, NYC Pain MD will tell you what they think your best options are and help you find the right doctor for you.

NYC Pain MD "Treatment Formula" A protocol of advanced medical treatments that has already helped thousands.

If you qualify, NYC Pain MD offers some of the most advanced medical treatments available today all using the most advanced imaging technology including:

- Viscosupplementation (gel injections)
- Platelet Rich Plasma (PRP)
- Stem Cell Therapy (Lipogems)
- Genicular Knee Block
- And more.

Once again, there is not enough space to go into detail about all these procedures... but here are some things you MUST KNOW....

Viscosupplementation is where a doctor introduces a gel-like medicine directly into the joint space. This helps to lubricate the joints often relieving some, most or even all of your pain. Results can last for 6 months to several years.

Many have had these treatments without good results. However, NYC Pain MD feels this is because doctors often do these "gel injections" without advanced imaging to guide them. Research shows they will often miss the joint. If the joint is missed... it is impossible for the treatment to work.

NYC Pain MD has spared no expense and used advanced imaging to guide the injections assuring the medicine gets into the joint. We frequently get results when this treatment was a failure done elsewhere.

The second thing you must know is... our treatment plans are custom made for every patent. And we have all these treatments offered in the same place. Many times you will get the best results from multiple treatments. At NYC Pain MD your doctors will all be there and will all know each other and you and your case. They work together and give you the best treatments and care without you having to go anywhere else.

The ability to select the right patients and then have the potential to give them any or all of these treatments... with all the necessary medical technology... under one roof... has allowed NYC Pain MD to get better results than they thought possible.

Here's What You Should Do Next

If you suffer with knee pain... and any of this made sense to you... NYC Pain MD would like to offer you a No-cost screening. That screening is the first step in our "Treatment Formula."

You will get to see a doctor and ask any questions you have. Your doctor will take the first steps to see if you qualify for treatments and give you recommendations.

The best thing is... you will finally get direction. You will know what's going on and what is your best course of action… step-by-step. The treatments will be explained in detail and you will breathe a big sigh of relief finally knowing what's going on and what can or cannot be done.

There is so much we want to say to help you... but I'm out of space. Give us a call at 877-296-6310 and take the first step. That step is free without obligation.

New Jersey leaders in deal to legalize recreational marijuana

When the bill goes into effect had yet to be determined.

REUTERS

New Jersey Gov. Phil Murphy on Tuesday reached an agreement in principle with Democratic lawmakers for the state to potentially become the second in the country to legalize the recreational use of cannabis through legislation.

Most of the 10 U.S. states that have legalized pot, in defiance of a federal ban on the drug, have done so through referendums, starting with Washington and Colorado in 2012.

"Legalizing adult-use marijuana is a monumental step to reducing disparities in our criminal justice system," Murphy, a Democrat and former Goldman Sachs investment banker who called for legalizing weed when he ran for office in 2017, said in a statement.

Under the deal, lawmakers are drafting legislation to tax pot sales, expunge past convictions for low-level cannabis offenses and create opportunities for minorities and women to enter the business, the governor's office said in a statement.

It was not immediately clear when the bill, if passed, would go into effect. Democrats control both the New Jersey Senate and the General Assembly.

A representative for Murphy's office did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

The agreement follows months of negotiations. Opposition to the plan has emerged, including from urban leaders, health officials, educators and police chiefs.

On Tuesday, Asbury Park Press editorial writer Randy Bergmann, in an essay posted online, appealed to Garden State residents to fight the proposal.

"There is only one thing that can stop it now: You and like-minded friends who believe there is nothing good that can come from legalization — and, potentially, plenty of harm," Bergmann wrote.

The fight against erectile dysfunction

Don't worry. It happens. But there are ways to stop it!
By Pat King

Many men deal with the awkward physical disability commonly known as erectile dysfunction. As a matter of fact, it may be a more common drawback for more men than you may think. According to a study conducted by the Cleveland Clinic, roughly 52 percent of men experience erectile dysfunction in their day-to-day lives, with 40 percent of men age 40 experience it and 70 percent of men age 70. So what are some ways that you can combat this … gulp… disappointing condition that affects so many men in the bedroom?

Eat and live right

As with many ailments, erectile dysfunction can be closely related to how much you exercise and how well you eat on a daily basis. In a nutshell — by getting the right amount of cardio during the week, you will maintain a lower blood pressure which can help you to achieve healthier erections when it matters the most.

Eating right can also contribute to lowering your blood pressure with food like dark chocolate, pistachios, and watermelon all linked to lowering cholesterol and increasing the blood flow in the right areas. Some bad news for those who like the drink a few cocktails from time to time however is that drinking to excess has historically been linked to cases of erectile dysfunction. So try to cut back if you want to see improvements down there.

The importance of a healthy diet cannot be overstated in cases of erectile dysfunction as WebMD found It is estimated that around "35-75% of men with diabetes will experience at least some degree of erectile dysfunction during their lifetime." On top of that, men with diabetes will develop ED 10 to 15 years before men without diabetes.

Cut out the problem at the root

While many pills and contraptions have been touted as the end all be all cures of this worrisome condition, few have produced the same exciting restorative results as the ErectionWave treatment. Created by board certified urologist, Dr. David Shusterman, this new innovative treatment has taken a different approach to this issue than, say, swallowing a couple viagras on a nightly basis. The most exciting aspect of this treatment is that it actually works to cure the real issues behind ED and not offering a temporary solution. By directing high frequency rays towards blood vessels that have been blocked, ErectionWave treatment will increase blood through these pathways to allow for stronger and longer lasting natural erections without the assistance of pills or useless penis pumps.

Another more direct erectile dysfunction cure is known as the Priapus Shot — or otherwise known simply as the "P-shot". This completely pain-free shot has been known to not only increase sex drive but increase the overall penis size to 3.5 centimeters. The shot gets these results by by kickstarting a man's own growth factors in his blood to recruit his body's own stem cells down to the penis causing quicker regeneration of tissue and blood vessels.

If you are interested in either of these groundbreaking treatments, make your appointment with Dr. Shusterman today by calling 212-661-0060.

STUDENT LOANS

My college days were some of the best days of my entire life. I met some of my best friends that I still have today and learned some amazing things. But, sometimes it feels like how much money I pay in student loans every month isn't really worth what my degree has amounted to in the years since I graduated. Plus, there were (still are) so many years where I felt like I was figuring out how to get the career I wanted and how I would be able to pay those insane monthly student loans. I'm still amazed that I still have interest on my loans after years of scheduling payments. I guess I shouldn't complain that much. It just seems like something I didn't know I was bargaining for?

GUITAR STORES

Does anyone else feel super uncomfortable in guitar stores? First of all, why do people just go there to show off their shredding skills? I also feel like guitar store clerks can smell your insecurities on you. They can instantly tell if you barely know anything about the instrument you want to try out and let you know that you are not worthy with their scowls. It almost makes you want to just ... you know ... buy something online!!!!

Aries Look beyond what's right in front of you to get a different perspective on what's actually happening. Silence is golden and will help prevent an argument.

Taurus You'll get all the help you need if you ask for it. Don't be so stubborn that you miss out on something that can lead to excellent connections. Put your emotions on the sideline.

Gemini Focus on what you can do to achieve personal growth, inner strength and steady progress. Tamping down extravagant behavior is a good place to start.

Cancer An interesting concept will encourage you to change the way you do things. Take a close look at your finances and contracts, and make some adjustments.

Leo Interact with people who love to talk. Listen to what they say and assess what's useable. A romantic gesture will help you establish better relations with a loved one.

Virgo Get involved in activities and events that are geared toward learning information that could be useful to you moving forward.

Libra Explore possibilities and sign up for talks or speak to an expert. The more you know, the easier it will be to assess situations and make better choices.

Scorpio Dreams can come true if you work hard and do the right things. First of all, be reasonable, and secondly, take care of anything that might stand in your way before you begin.

Sagittarius Your emotions will cloud your vision. Someone will tell you what you want to hear instead of being truthful. Do some soul-searching before you commit to anything or anyone.

Capricorn It's time to make some changes that will improve your life. Try to find ways to spend more time working on projects that you enjoy.

Aquarius Relaxing at home with a loved one or clearing a space to start a new project will give you the incentive to pursue a dream.

Pisces A former co-worker will give you a lead that looks promising. A change of attitude will open up doors that were closed in the past. EUGENIA LAST

Your dog is just like you!

NEW RESEARCH ON PUPPIES' PERSONALITIES FOUND THAT DOGS CAN DRASTICALLY CHANGE THEIR TRAITS DEPENDING ON THEIR RELATIONSHIP WITH OWNER.

FACTS ABOUT THE RESEARCH:

Researchers surveyed owners of more than 1.6k dogs of 50 different breeds.

Dogs ranged from just a few weeks to 15 years old, n male and female.

Owners evaluated their dog's personalities and answered questions about pet's behavioral history.

The owners also responded about their own personalities.

"When humans go through big changes in life, their personality traits can change. We found that this also happens with dogs – and to a surprisingly large degree."

William Chopik, professor of psychology at Michigan State University and lead author of the paper.

"IN THE FUTURE, SCIENTISTS WILL EXAMINE HOW THE ENVIRONMENT OWNERS PROVIDE TO THEIR DOGS AFFECTS ON THEIR BEHAVIOR."

WHAT DID THEY DISCOVER?

Scientists found correlations in three areas:

- Age and personality
- Human-to-dog personality similarities
- Influence of quality of relationship with owner on dog's personality.

Metro examines how new materials can be converted into useful and versatile garments. Fashion Month is over, and there were many Autumn/Winter 2019 trends highlighted on the catwalks in the big fashion cities of the industry. Many of them are a variation of those that prevailed in seasons past, while others seek to reinvent themselves through traditional textures of this season; for example, letter and animal prints. Metro investigates how to apply new trends and improve your own style.

4 FASHION MONTH TRENDS ADAPTED TO YOUR WARDROBE

LUZ LANCHEROS | METRO WORLD NEWS
PHOTOS: GETTY

LEATHER EXPLOSION

It comes in all colors, matching with pieces from other collections and even with suits. It can be tricky in the assembly, but creates a much more varied silhouette. This was seen, for example, with Cushnie, Philip Lim and Sies Marjan, who, like Alexander McQueen, took more risks.

How to use it?
We already know that a leather jacket is a basic element of an outfit, but don't be afraid to take risks. Use more elaborate pieces out of the ordinary, such as pleated leather skirts, leather tops, leather dresses in another color, and other textures.

BRIGHT NEON

Fluorine and its variants of yellow-green have been unforgettable for two seasons. They come in reflective materials, like Marine Serre's pieces, or even glow in the dark, as shown by Yves Saint Laurent. Balenciaga showed oversized pieces and also complements of this color, while Issey Miyake went with lively contrasts of violet.

How to use it?
You can find it in prints, as with Gucci and Zara, or accessories such as bags and shoes. This color speaks for itself, so there is no need to put something that visually clashes with it.

FEATHER FEAST

This material is usually seen in haute couture pieces and at artistic parades. But Erdem, Mary Katrantzou and Roksanda created colorful pieces as a perfect complement in romantic tones.

PATCHWORK, REINVENTED

It is not the treatment of the textile in its traditional meaning (to cut and paste in a rustic way). It's made with leather and metallic, as seen at Michael Kors, with his progressive style of fitting and tailoring, or in Mondrian colors, as shown by Eckhaus Latta.

- My toenails are crooked, discolored and thickened.
- The sides of my toenails dig into the skin and hurt.
- I have a large bump behind my big toe (or little toe) which is always red.
- I get an extremely painful "cramp" in the area of my third and fourth toes when wearing shoes.
- My toes aren't straight- they are all cocked-up, bent and hurt.
- I have painful calluses on the ball of my foot which keep building up.
- I have corns on my toes which get thick no matter what shoe size I wear.
- The bottom of my heel hurts all day, but it's worse when I step out of bed in the morning.
- I have cramps in my legs which always happen when I walk the same distance.
- My ankles are swollen most of the time.
- My feet are always dry and scaly – sometimes they itch.
- My feet just hurt all over when I stand or walk a lot.
- I have numbness, burning, infection, persistent pain, skin rash, or open sores.

3 Things that change when you're a homeowner

NerdWallet is a personal finance website.

You signed the papers, got the keys and opened the front door. Now, that quaint little place is all yours.

But more freedom comes with more responsibility. A lot changes once you're a homeowner. Here's how to prepare for a few of the adjustments.

1. You think about money more often

Say a mortgage on your dream house would be $2,000 a month, but your current rent is $1,500. You should live at the new expense level to test it out before you buy, says Marianela Collado, CEO and senior financial advisor at Tobias Financial Advisors in Florida.

For example, you could try putting the $500 difference into savings for several months to see if you can manage.

"For an even more complete picture of your new budget, go a step further." Collado recommends calling local companies before buying a house so you can gauge how much you should expect to pay for monthly bills like water and electricity.

Your money mindfulness will need to continue after you've settled into your house and placed a welcome mat on the porch.

A budget needs to be revisited regularly, especially since you can expect home-related expenses to go up over time. It's crucial to have flexibility in your budget to cover an increase in utility expenses.

2. You need things you didn't before

You'll probably need a basic toolkit, water shut-off tool and plunger, too, says Danny Lipford, a national home improvement expert and host of "Today's Homeowner" on television and radio.

These are relatively minor, but there are big expenses, too. In an apartment, you may not have needed to purchase a washer, dryer or refrigerator because they were supplied for you. And you probably didn't need a lawn mower.

Depending on what you already own, expect to buy appliances for your new place. Start setting aside money for these items while you're saving for a down payment and closing costs. And keep an eye out for sales and deals.

But don't make major purchases until you move in, advises Rianka R. Dorsainvil, CFP, founder of Your Greatest Contribution, a fee-only financial planning firm. That's because you want your debt-to-income ratio to be as low as possible at closing.

3. You manage time differently

Once you've officially moved and sent out your change-of-address announcements, you'll quickly realize you're responsible for upkeep. That means you're on the hook when the water heater breaks or the air conditioner goes out.

It's not just repairs, either. Lipford points out other expenses like yard work and pest control. And for maintenance, you have two options: handle things yourself or hire someone to do it.

Jets snag Mosley, waiting for Bell

Gang Green added a four-time Pro Bowler but continue to wait for Le'Veon Bell.

JOE PANTORNO
joseph.pantorno@metro.us

Forget about the offense, the New York Jets are suddenly building quite the imposing defense as free agency is set to kick off on Wednesday, even though it has come with its fair share of drama.

While they kicked off the NFL's negotiating period — which began on Monday — with a trade for offensive guard Kelechi Osemele and the signing of slot receiver Jamison Crowder, the Jets looked poised to pull off two huge moves in succession for linebackers.

Monday night appeared to have brought about the acquisition of Minnesota Vikings OLB Anthony Barr, who was coming off an inconsistent 2018 in which he recorded 55 combined tackles and three sacks in 13 games. Yet on Tuesday afternoon, Mike Garafolo of NFL Network reported that Barr had decided to remain with the Vikings.

The 26-year-old was projected to add an outside rushing presence in new defensive coordinator Gregg Williams' 3-4 scheme, which would have been a new look for him considering the Vikings deploy a 4-3 defense that keeps Barr more toward the interior.

With 13.5 sacks over his first five seasons, it was not a given that Barr would have helped out a Jets unit that struggled to get to the quarterback last season. However, this was an athletic talent that could have adapted quickly enough in New York.

His decision to remain in Minnesota adds some more money back to the Jets' cap space. NFL Network's Tom Pelissero reported Barr's initial Jets deal was around the $14 million to $15 million range per season.

C.J. Mosley reportedly agreed to a five-year deal with the Jets on Tuesday. GETTY IMAGES

With some of that money freed back up, the Jets circled back to make one final offer to free-agent star running back Le'Veon Bell.

At the time of this paper's publishing, Bell was considering the Jets, the Baltimore Ravens and the Oakland Raiders, per multiple reports. New York gave him a deadline to make a decision on what is believed to be their final offer for the 27-year-old.

Bell's looming decision took away some of the focus from the Jets' big-time defensive addition. They agreed to a five-year, $85 million deal ($17 million AAV) with former Baltimore Ravens inside linebacker C.J. Mosley, per ESPN's Adam Schefter.

Also 26 years old, Mosley has excelled from the moment he made it to Baltimore after being drafted out of Alabama with the 17th pick of the 2014 draft. He's made the Pro Bowl four times in his first five seasons, where he put up a 16-game average of 124 combined tackles.

Mosley is being brought on to help lead the middle of the Jets defense with an ability to provide above-average play against both the run and pass. It's an aspect they've missed since parting ways with David Harris in 2017. Mosley has nine career interceptions and 35 pass breakups to go with a run stop percentage of 10.9, ranked fifth among NFL linebackers by Pro Football Focus.

He's a prime addition to the Jets' young, explosive defensive core as he will join safety Jamal Adams (23 years old), defensive end Leonard Williams (24) and inside linebacker Avery Williamson (27). That group alone should do plenty to improve the Jets' standing from last year when they ranked 24th against the pass, 26th against the run and 29th in points allowed.

Add in the potential No. 3 pick of the 2019 NFL Draft that could yield Kentucky edge rusher Josh Allen or Alabama defensive tackle Quinnen Williams and the Jets might be putting together one of the best defenses in franchise history right before our very eyes.

Giants trade Beckham to Browns in shocker

New York sends its franchise wide receiver to Cleveland for Peppers, picks.

JOE PANTORNO
joseph.pantorno@metro.us

In a stunning move, the New York Giants traded star wide receiver Odell Beckham Jr. to the Cleveland Browns on Tuesday night, per multiple reports.

In return, the Giants will receive the Browns' first-round pick in the 2019 draft (No. 17), a third-round pick, and safety Jabrill Peppers.

The move continues an offseason of surprising moves from general manager Dave Gettleman, who has made the decision to retain veteran quarterback Eli Manning while letting All-Pro safety Landon Collins walk in free agency. Collins officially signs with the Washington Redskins today.

Peppers will be seen as Collins' true replacement just hours after the Giants signed veteran safety Antoine Bethea. The 23-year-old has recorded 136 combined tackles and two interceptions in 29 career games.

On the offensive side of the ball, the 38-year-old Manning, who will be in the final year of his contract while providing a $23 million cap hit, now will be without his No. 1 target as the Giants offense has been gutted of one of its best players.

Beckham has been one of the most electrifying receivers in the game since debuting in 2014, posting over 1,300 yards in each of his first three NFL seasons with a combined 35 touchdowns before a broken ankle limited his 2017 season to just four games. He bounced back nicely last season with 1,072 yards and six touchdowns in 12 games.

New York's skill players were generally seen as a bright spot on the struggling franchise as Beckham headlined a group that also featured Sterling Shepard, tight end Evan Engram and second-year running back sensation Saquon Barkley.

Gettleman made it clear on multiple occasions over the past year that the Giants were not intent on trading Beckham after they signed him to a five-year, $95 million extension prior to the 2018 season. It was a vote of confidence after doubts arose about the 26-year-old's attitude on and off the field.

A more mature Beckham seemed plenty deserving of the new deal in 2018, but a combined eight wins over the past two seasons makes it seem that Gettleman is ready to tear most of it down.

In Cleveland, Beckham will join a promising offense that features second-year quarterback and reigning No. 1 pick Baker Mayfield and his good friend from LSU, wide receiver Jarvis Landry.

Great laptop for the money, searched the web and this deal could not be beat. Was able to configure it exactly like I wanted and the warranty is as good as the oem. The customer service is top notch as well. Great people to deal with.
